ANNOUNCEMENT & SUMMIT SPECIAL INVITATION

I, Professor Kobina Keme-Ebi Imananagha, the President of Alexis Health Professionals Interventions Organization, on behalf of the summit organizers - Alexis Health Professionals Interventions Organization (AHPI.org), in collaboration with major health sector stakeholders - is pleased to invite you to attend this special upcoming summit that will define the future of Africa's Health.

Over the decades, healthcare professionals have observed the gradual deterioration of healthcare services at all levels of patient care, and now the near-total collapse of healthcare delivery systems in the 54 countries of Africa, our motherland (population: 1.4 billion). Governments of many of these countries appear helpless, and require our immediate interventions.

The situation is further compounded by the on-going massive exodus of all categories of healthcare professionals which is negatively impacting the quality of patients' care, and the training of health professionals in the continent. Life expectancy of the people of Africa is low, and mortality rates among patient is very high, especially among children and the elderly.

The summit will assemble over 3000 health professionals, and public health experts (from Africa and diaspora) to exhaustively discuss these health challenges, and design innovative measures to effectively tackle them.

Summit will feature highly engaging keynote speeches, interactive group discussions, country health status reports, and identify innovative healthcare intervention projects and programs, to tackle these challenges etc
